Investing together, impacting the world

Praxis™

An Everence Company

Since 1994, Praxis has pursued real-world change while meeting investors' practical needs. Six faith-driven, deeply held values underpin our commitment to our shareholders and the world.

VALUES

1. Respect the dignity and value of all people.
2. Build a world at peace and free from violence.
3. Demonstrate a concern for justice globally.
4. Exhibit responsible management practices.
5. Support and involve communities.
6. Practice environmental stewardship.

These core values embrace a wide range of societal issues along with traditional, prudent financial considerations. We call the specific application of our core values "stewardship investing."

In this model, we seek to hold in tension a responsibility for the productive use of financial resources and a deep-seated concern for the individuals, communities and environments impacted by our investment choices.

We believe investing is most productive when it supports real-world change through constructive engagement.

STEWARDSHIP

With our core values as the foundation, Praxis brings a principled approach to balancing investors' financial needs and their desire to positively impact the world.

To meet investors' practical needs, we offer broadly diversified funds that seek market-level returns over time. One is an actively managed bond fund, and four are equity index funds, each optimized to track its benchmark.

More than the investments you hold, impact is about the change you make happen. We pursue real-world change through seven distinct impact strategies.

IMPACT

We apply rigorous screens to exclude companies of moral concern and those with exceptionally high environmental, social or governance risk.

But that's only the beginning of the story. Real progress comes through productive dialogue and direct action — as embraced by the remaining six ImpactX strategies.

Why "X"?

Like impact itself, X is a variable, X can be a multiplier, and X is often an unknown. Impact is a factor that must be carefully processed, intentionally managed, continuously explored and routinely redefined.

Gauging real-world change

Praxis pursues seven distinct impact strategies. The gauges show our take on each one's potential to promote real-world change.

What if everyday investors could make real change happen?

PRAXIS MONEY MARKET ACCOUNT

ETFs are subject to additional risks that do not apply to conventional mutual funds, including the risks that the market price of an ETF's shares may trade at a premium or discount to its net asset value, an active secondary trading market may not develop or be maintained, or trading may be halted by the exchange in which they trade, which may impact an ETF's ability to sell its shares. Shares of any ETF are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the ETF. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. There can be no guarantee that any strategy will be successful.

The Fund's investment strategy could cause the fund to sell or avoid securities that may subsequently perform well, and the application of ESG and/or faith-based screens may cause the fund to lag the performance of its index.
