Are you looking for financial training based on Biblical principles?

Discover personal financial training with the FreedUp financial program, which helps people develop strong habits for personal finances.

What is FreedUp? FreedUp is an app-based stewardship training program that helps guide and equip believers like you manage money through biblical wisdom.

Who is FreedUp for? This course is for anyone, regardless of financial situation, who wants to learn more about financial stewardship and its components like earning, giving, spending and debt.

How do I access FreedUp? Register and access the workbook and app online at getfreedup.com. NOTE: Couples should register two different emails - this will enable you to both use the app on your individual phones.

How long is the FreedUp program? The course is six weeks long, but individuals or couples can work through the material at whatever pace feels comfortable.

The discount code is available through Dec. 19, 2025. Only 300 vouchers are available at the discounted rate. Couples will pay one fee for two workbooks.*
